

Recovering Hope Treatment Center announces new President and Executive Director

July 21, 2021 | Mora, Minnesota

Recovering Hope Treatment Center has announced Sadie Broekemeier as the President of their 108-bed residential family treatment center and outpatient clinic in Mora, MN. This announcement comes as the organization embarks on their fifth year of providing services. Ray Ludowese, current CEO of Recovering Hope Treatment Center states the decision sets the organization in the direction of continued growth and success. Ms. Broekemeier has been with Recovering Hope Treatment center since they opened their doors on August 4, 2016 and has worked in various roles as the organization navigated the challenges and successes of being an organization in infancy, strategic growth and crisis of COVID. In the past five years, Recovering Hope Treatment Center has grown in its ability to serve those in need by expanding from a facility that can serve 80 to a facility that can serve 108 in addition to a community mental health and substance use clinic.

Ms. Broekemeier said “I am grateful for the opportunity to continue to identify and develop services that are needed in our community. It has been a blessing to be a part of Recovering Hope Treatment Center and being able to provide needed mental health services in my home community. I was raised in and I am currently raising my children in Mora, Minnesota and to be able to see positive change in our community from the work that we do continues to strengthen my commitment to the organization. Not only do we provide needed services in our rural community, we are also able to provide over 80 full time employment opportunities that help better our community on a deeper level.”

With Ms. Broekemeier stepping into a new role, current Senior Director of Residential Services, Carmen Finn will be taking on the Executive Director role. Ms. Broekemeier said, “Finn has been an asset to our team since she joined over two years ago. Finn has over 20 years of experience in the behavioral health field and has fine-tuned our residential program in her previous role as Senior Director of Residential Services. She has brought the mission and vision of Recovering Hope Treatment Center to life by highlighting a culture of client centered care and compassion. Finn states, “It is exciting to see Recovering Hope continue to expand to meet the needs in our community for comprehensive mental health and substance use disorder services, and I am committed to serving this community, individuals, and families now and into the future.”
